

BEST KEPT FRESH PVC SPECIALTY FILMS

FRESH IS BEST

Integrated Packaging offers a range of quality food films with benefits for all kinds of fresh delicatessen and small goods products.

We have developed a comprehensive range of films with different attributes to meet market expectations. This involved developing a wide range of quality product innovations that will improve the presentation, freshness and shelf life of the product, whilst meeting the highest global food safety standards.

Our films are highly transparent and glossy, have exceptional anti-fog properties and have a good moisture and oxygen transmission rate to ensure the product remains fresh, achieving optimum shelf life and maintaining visual presentation. In addition, the high strength film minimizes the risk of tears, providing added protection to reduce spoilage and wastage.

With a range of gauges, widths and roll lengths, our films are suitable for any packaging process, whether that be manual, semi-automatic or automatic.

Our specialty films has been precisely engineered and offers a new alternative for products displayed in a delicatessen or similar environments. With food safety in mind, these films maintain the shelf life of the product and preserve the freshness of the product.
