Electra

The universal knee break chair

The Electra from Fedesa provides a perfect solution for a wide range of applications.

Treating the elderly, children or people with difficulties entering your current chair?

Need a stand alone chair with easy unobstructed access?

Need a dedicated orthodontics package?

Need an ambidextrous dental chair package that changes from left to right and vice versa with ease?

Designed and manufactured by one of the largest dental chair manufacturers, the Electra can easily accommodate the above. The Electra by Fedesa is available as a stand alone chair, dedicated package for orthodontic use or a full Left/Right ambidextrous chair package for general dentistry.

Retractable foot rest allows for easy access when in the home position

Stand alone model includes:

- Foot toggle for easy hands free operation
- Return to home
- Option to add keypad for chair movement
- Option to add operating light

ICONA and Electra The perfect choice for your practice

Fedesa

Electra

The Electra offers a special configuration for orthodontic treatments.

Any instruments required can be added to the assistants work position. An instrument tray is fitted to a double articulating arm providing ease of movement and positioning.

The Electra Ambi combines all the features of the Electra treatment unit and makes them available for right-and-left-handed doctors, covering all major needs in every doctor's clinic.

The Ambi unit enables a better communication and dialogue between operator and patient thanks to its knee-break system. The synchronized movement of backrest and footrest allows for a smooth transition from a sitting position to the operations position.
