

KEEPING IT FRESH PVC MUSHROOM FILM

FRESH IDEAS

Integrated Packaging offers a range of quality food films with benefits for all kind of fresh produce including mushrooms.

We have developed a specialized range of films with different attributes to meet market expectations, specifically for the mushroom industry. This involved developing product innovations that will improve the presentation, freshness and shelf life of the product, whilst achieving the highest global food safety standards.

Our films are highly transparent and glossy, have exceptional anti-fog properties and have a good moisture and oxygen transmission rate to ensure the product remains fresh, achieving optimum shelf life and maintaining visual presentation. In addition, our high strength film is easier to handle, minimizes the risk of tears, whilst providing added protection to reduce spoilage and wastage.

With a range of gauges, widths and roll lengths, our films are suitable for any packaging process, whether that be manual, semi-automatic or automatic.

Our mushroom film has been precisely engineered and offers a new alternative to the mushroom industry. With food safety in mind, this film maintains the shelf life of the product and preserves the freshness of the mushroom.
